

Lead Facilitator – Performance Consultants International

Carolyn Dawson Consultant

London, UK

Languages:
English

- ❖ Carolyn Dawson is a Consultant, Lead Facilitator and Executive Coach for Performance Consultants. She is a professionally qualified coach (PCC, CPCC) and coach trainer with extensive experience in the delivery of co-active coaching for business leaders for a wide range of UK and international corporate and private clients.
- ❖ Carolyn has a breadth of business experience after 25 years working with diverse organizations and people at all levels in Technology, Professional Services, Energy, Transport, Retail and Charities. She is skilled in creating an environment for people to adapt to the changes needed in themselves, their teams and the organization, mobilising individuals and teams to proactively pursue goals that deliver results, bring out the best in people and facilitate the transformation of organizational culture to one of innovation, collaboration and optimism.
- ❖ Carolyn designs and facilitates leadership development programmes and events for senior women, designs and leads diversity programmes for organisations who want to retain and grow their female talent and designs and delivers professional coach training programmes for HR professionals, business leaders and organizations in the UK and Eastern Europe.
- ❖ As a Senior Trainer, Carolyn has positively impacted the lives of hundreds of business leaders, HR professionals and managers, taking participants on a transformational journey to equip them as a professional coach and inspire them as a leader to create a better life for themselves, their people and organizations.
- ❖ Some of Carolyn's clients include BP, Virgin Media, British Airways, RBS Group, The Cooperative Group and many more.
- ❖ Carolyn is an engaging, creative and deeply empathic facilitator of organizational and personal transformation.

About Performance Consultants International

Growing People, Performance and Purpose

Performance Consultants International (PCI) is the leading coaching, leadership and performance improvement firm in the workplace globally. Our future and our history are both based on us being pioneers and thought-leaders in the fields of coaching, leadership, sustainability and transformation.

We help people and organizations to transform and develop themselves for the better. In our work, we bring out the heart and soul in organizations and businesses to unleash people and create sustainable growth in performance and capital.

Our approach is one of collaboration and co-creation with clients and the people and organizations we serve. Our success is based on this commitment and a focused intention to understand and meet their immediate and long-term goals and requirements.

We professionally stand for leadership that is based on individual and collective awareness and responsibility, driven and led by all levels of an organization; the integration of strategy, culture and leadership in assisting people and organizations to engage deeply in a society desiring new forms of corporate responsibility and public accountability that is paramount to creating the world and future that is desired.

Our vision is for a world where all life matters and this requires an individual and collective approach at all levels of society – personal, corporate, country and internationally. Growing people, performance and purpose is the key for any company or organization that has the intention to be a true leader in their own field or industry, but equally in a world beginning to question current forms of economic growth and their impact on society and the natural world.